

Internship Category Management Jewellery & Licences

Montblanc is a manufacturer of exclusive products including watches, jewellery, writing instruments and leather goods which reflect our high demands with respect to culture, quality, design, tradition and craftsmanship. Montblanc is present all around the world with more than 20 subsidiaries and 530 boutiques.

For our headquarters in Hamburg we offer for the 1st of October 2017 an Internship Category Management Jewellery & Licences.

We recruit

For this internship we look for a dynamic and motivated person with passion for our products, especially for our women's jewellery as well as men's accessories.

Key responsibilities:

- Preparation of PowerPoint presentations
- Competitor analysis - Compilation of data in SAP systems for new products
- Management of jewellery ensembles presented at red carpet events
- Preparation of business object analysis
- Creating trade catalogues and managing content for the Montblanc online shop

Your profile:

You are studying Business Administration with specializations in marketing or product management or the like and finished your first semesters successfully. You already collected first experience in earlier internships or through an apprenticeship. You are an Excel expert and ideally know how to apply SAP R3/BW respectively SAP/Business Warehouse/BOA.

You are a team-minded, communicative and dedicated person. You can deal with very busy workdays and deadlines on short notice. You have the ability to cope with large amounts of data and have an enquiring mind. You speak fluently and write accurately English.

The internship lasts six months. Please, let us know your earliest start date. The internship will be fairly remunerated.
